

Good morning,

Gene is one of the most honest people I have had the pleasure of working with.

I worked with Gene for about 9 months, and have continued to stay in contact with him since then. I have found Gene to conduct himself with integrity both in his work life and in his personal life.

Gene strives to be personally successful but also to do whatever he can do make the business successful. If given the chance to add Gene to your team you would be lucky to bring him on board!

Thank you,
